There's a Better Way to Build

Once upon a time, design-build was considered an “alternative” way to deliver construction projects. Not anymore. These days, nearly half of the nation’s construction dollars are spent on design-build projects.

Design-build saves time and money by encouraging innovation and collaboration, delivering some of the nation’s most impressive projects of all types and sizes, and across every sector. It’s no surprise that design-build is the fastest growing and most popular method used to deliver construction projects in America. But we didn’t get here by accident.

The Design-Build Institute of America is committed to building and maintaining the important relationships which fuel the collaboration central to all good design-build projects. We are at an important place in our history and the DBIA community is engaged, innovative and eager to make these connections through our online communities, blog, DBIA podcast and at our conferences and events.

We look forward to helping you connect with the design-build industry, to tell your story and help us transform our industry.

Our Audience

We're Rebels, Dreamers and Doers.

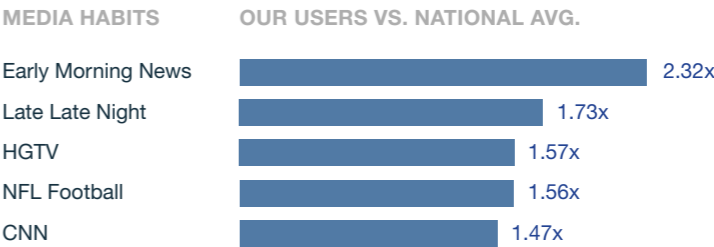

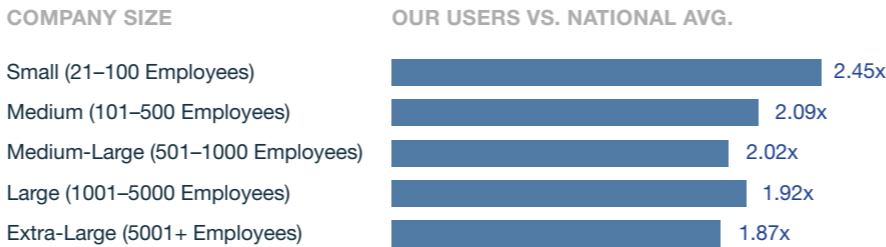

Design-builders are unique. They've embraced the "alternative" and have now made it the norm. Not only is DBIA's audience the most diverse in our industry, including all members of the design and construction industry, it also covers a broad cross-section of highly-valued age, education and income demographics.

A job isn't just a job. It's who you are.

Not surprisingly, most of our audience works in the design and construction industry (8x the national online average) but a large number of our online users come from government (7x), education (6x), legal and business (5x). They represent all types of organizations.

The majority say they're politically engaged, and their media habits are definitely eclectic.

Design-build will be vital in helping federal agencies, states, and cities deliver the most innovative, time and cost-efficient projects possible. Owners need to maximize these investment dollars to deliver the best possible projects for their communities. They're looking for design-build teams to help do just that.

The #InfrastructureWorks Campaign has gathered stories from community leaders throughout the country about their infrastructure work and the importance of IJA funding for the future.

Water System Innovation in Kentucky

Among those interviewed include, long time DBIA Owner member and national award winner, the Louisville and Jefferson County Metropolitan Sewer District (MSD). The MSD's impressive Shawnee Park infrastructure project is a DBIA national award winner that provided a triple-bottom-line impact (social, economic and environmental) for the community.

Tony Parrott is MSD's Executive Director and he highlighted the incredible community value design-build infrastructure delivers in his community

"Our Shawnee Park overflow basin gave the park a basketball court parking for the children's Sprayground a boat ramp and a pavilion. Our flood protection levees that help protect against the river flooding double as recreation paths for walkers, runners, and cyclists. We are an anchor utility serving and protecting 750,000 people and $24 billion in property. In short, MSD demonstrates that infrastructure works"

All ads are 4-Color and rates do not include design or graphics services; standard rates in table are "gross" rates; any special rate offers are intended as "net" rates.

Earned Frequency Rate/Short Rates/Rebates: Rates are determined by the number of insertions appearing within a 12-month period from the date of the first insertion. Schedules composed of mixed space units are entitled to a frequency rate for each unit, determined by DBIA. Advertisers will be short-rated if in a 12-month period they have not used the amount of space upon which their billings have been based; rebates or credits will apply for advertisers running additional times within a 12 month period from their first insertion if it would warrant a lower rate.

All accounts are due and payable in full 30 days from invoice date, unless otherwise agreed to in writing by DBIA's authorized representative. Returned checks will be assessed an insufficient funds fee of $35 per transaction.

The account is subject to a 1% late fee per month beginning on the 31st day after the invoice date (12% per annum compounded monthly). In addition, the advertiser is responsible for the cost of all collection agency fees and other costs of collections, including reasonable attorneys fees and court costs incurred by DBIA in collecting payments.

Any disputes regarding invoices or services provided by DBIA shall be reported to the authorized representative of DBIA within 30 days from invoice date (such dispute does not negate the obligation to pay accounts in full 30 days from invoice date).

Failure to report any disputes within 30 days from invoice date constitutes a waiver of any claim with respect to such dispute.

Publisher (DBIA) reserves the right to withhold advertising for any account with an outstanding invoice beyond 60 days.

The publisher shall have the right to hold advertiser and/or its advertising agency jointly and severally liable for such monies as are due and payable to the publisher for advertising ordered and published.

All advertising is subject to the publisher's approval.

The publisher reserves the right to reject advertising which does not meet DBIA's standards and objectives.

Advertisers are encouraged to describe products and services in an accurate and complete manner.

DBIA reserves the right to refuse to accept ads which because of omissions or inaccuracies provide misleading information. The publication or posting of any advertisement by the Design-Build Institute of America (DBIA) is neither an endorsement of the advertiser nor of the products or services advertised.

DBIA is not responsible for any claims made in an advertisement.

Advertisers may not, without prior consent, incorporate in a subsequent advertisement or promotional piece the fact that a product or service has been advertised in a DBIA publication or on DBIA Web site.

Advertiser and advertising agency assume liability for all content (including text representation, illustrations, and photographs) of advertisements printed or posted, and also assume responsibility for any claims arising there from made against the publisher.

The publisher assumes no liability if for any reason it becomes necessary to omit an advertisement.

The publisher's liability for any error will not exceed the charge for the advertisement in question.

No conditions, printed or otherwise, appearing on the space order, contract, billing instructions, or copy instructions which conflict with the publisher's stated policies will be binding on the publisher.
