Who's Attending?

Federal Attendee Market Sector Represented*

New vs. Returning Attendees*

*Data averaged over past 2 years

Here what some of last year's Federal attendees have to say:

This was one of the best conferences I have attended.

“

The compact format allowed more convenient timeframe for federal workers who have a hard time getting approved to travel and attend conferences.

“

The content was excellent, and the summary sessions were particularly effective for reviewing the presented material and putting it into context.

Increasing Efficiency and Effectiveness in Federal Capital Project Delivery

We hope you'll join us as design-build Owners and industry leaders interested in federal sector projects come together this August for the Federal Design-Build Symposium.

With the implementation of historic infrastructure underway, there's no better time for industry and Owners alike to come together and answer the call to deliver important projects across the nation with experienced design-build teams. Sponsors of the Federal Design-Build Symposium are uniquely positioned as design-build leaders at this important event.
