

DBIA INDUSTRY PARTNER MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

DBIA Membership BOGO

To join online, please go to dbia.org/join or email this application to membership@dbia.org

DBIA offers two types of memberships. Industry Partner (IP) membership is an “organizational” membership, noting the company name as the member with all member employees. Individual membership applies to a single person – only that individual receives access to DBIA member benefits.

AE/EA Firm: defined as a firm that is solely one of the following: Architecture/engineering (AE), Engineering/architecture (EA), Engineering only, Architecture only

At-Risk Firm: defined as the firm that is taking the financial risk and manages the contract for the project. Examples include: Construction Management Firm, Design-Build Firm (a fully integrated in-house team), General Contracting Firm

Professional Services Firm: defined as the firm that provides solely professional services for the project/client. Examples include: Consulting Firm, Law Firm, Marketing/Business Development Firm, VDC/Technology Provider or Consultant

Public/Private Owner Firm: defined as an organization that is owned privately or publicly. They are the organizations that control the design and construction process. Examples include: Private Facility Owner, Real Estate Developer, Public Academic Institution, Government Agency (Federal, Local/City, State, Military). This does not include firms that provide design and construction services such as contractors, A/E firms, architects etc.

Specialty Contractor or Manufacturer/Supplier Firm: defined as an organization that provides specialty services to a project. Examples include: Electrical Contractor, Manufacturer/Supplier, Mechanical Contractor, Plumbing Contractor

By checking here, I confirm my agency/company's understanding and support of the DBIA Code of Professional Conduct.

By continuing, I attest to the following statement: "I verify that the information I've submitted is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge."

Any discrepancies may result in the need for DBIA to revise or update your dues structure to match your membership type.

As an Industry Partner active member of the Design-Build Institute of America (DBIA), you acknowledge and agree that your organization contact information (including company name, address, business email and phone number) may be auto-populated from DBIA's membership database into the public-facing Industry Match directory. You understand that enhancements to your Industry Match profile including identification of additional services offered (i.e., Owner Advisory services), project photos and detailed information on the type of work your firm performs are your responsibility. Detailed information on how to update your Industry Match profile will be provided via email in your welcome packet.

DBIA's Industry Match is the nation's only online tool helping Owners and Industry find qualified design-builders. Whether you search by region, market, specialties, UBE or project type, explore our comprehensive directory to find potential design-build team members to help you deliver your most successful projects.

By submitting this application, you agree to receive mandatory membership and transactional communications from the Design-Build Institute of America (DBIA), including invoices, renewals, governance notices, ballots, program information, and other essential updates related to your membership. These operational communications are required and cannot be unsubscribed while membership is active. You confirm that you are authorized to provide this contact information and consent to receive these communications.
